Capital Report on Economy of Nation Rosy

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The capital was abloom today with rosy reports on the nation's economy.

Jobs, personal income, manufacturing profits and production were up, and labor disputes down.

"Our economic prognosis is one of continued growth," declared President Johnson after a look at some of the figures and no doubt pleased at the prospect of having prosperity in an election year.

These were the findings by the various agencies Tuesday after adding up and comparing percentages.

The Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission reported the profits of manufacturing corporations were 27 per cent higher in the first three months of this year than last.

Profits after taxes, the report added, were $5.12 billion, compared to $4.2 billion in the first quarter of 1963.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said personal income rose to a seasonally adjusted rate of almost $485 billion in May, $25 billion above May 1963.

All was not cheers here, however, for the $1.25-billion gain was only slightly more than half of the April advance.

The Federal Reserve Board reported that industrial production increased in May for the ninth consecutive month. Its index inched up from 129.6 in April to 133.3—meaning the output of factories, mines and utilities is 30.3 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average, used as a base figure of 100.

The climb was about average for the past several months but, again, about half as much as Continued on Page Two

Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate strength soars to 674, an AP survey shows. If he hangs on to that total, he'll take Republican presidential nomination with 19 votes to spare.

Ruling on Sunday Closing Matter

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Mayor Bob Brooksher said Tuesday night that the Fort Smith city commission should either pass a Sunday closing ordinance or refer the matter to voters.

Brooksher, who announced his resignation earlier in the day, made the remark after sentiment expressed at a public meeting was overwhelming in favor of Sunday closing.

Most of the crowd of 500 wore orange and black coat stickers declaring, "Let's Close Sunday."

Roy Gean Jr., an attorney who is pushing for Sunday closing, said he believes that a majority of Fort Smith merchants want to close on Sunday but remain open to meet competition.

Gean submitted a sample Sunday closing ordinance to the commission recently and the commission promptly set the matter for public hearing.

Fort Smith now has no restriction on Sunday sales. All types of stores, from smoke shops to supermarkets, are open.

If You Plan to Stay in the Social Swim Plan Activities Now for 2nd Half of Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If you plan to stay in the social swim, now is the time to start planning your activities for the second half of the year.

The schedule is a full one. Still to be observed this month are Father's Day, National Bow Tie Week, a total eclipse of the moon, and Save Your City Week.

July begins, not inappropriately, with a festival for "the most famous citizen" of Bridgeport, Conn., the late Phineas T. Barnum, who once cautiously observed, "There's a sucker born every minute."

You may also want to take some part in National Hot Dog and National Oat Control Month, Let's Play Tennis Week and ceremonies honoring D. L. L. Zamenhof, whose claim to fame is that he founded Esperanto, the second international language. The first international language was money.

Coming up in August are National Clown Week, National Sandwich Month, the anniversary of the arrival of Ponce de Leon in Puerto Rico, and the birthdays of Herbert Hoover, Benjamin Harrison and Huey P. Long. Perhaps you'd also better make a memo now to play a tune for National Accordian Week.

September promises to be a 30-day reign of joy. It is Youth Month, Home Quiet Month, Home Sweet Home Month, National Better Breakfast Month,

THE SMALL GIRL FEEDING A FAWN a bottle of milk was snapped near Garland Kidd's store at Bois d'Arc Lake by Francis Scott Key, 15, of Spring Hill, Hope Route One.

COLOR PRINTS WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR contest purposes — but a negative must be produced on demand before a prize is awarded, since the winning pictures will have to be greatly enlarged. Both Polaroid and color prints are eligible — but your best bet is a print from a conventional negative; and keep your negatives in a safe place until the contest is over and the awards announced, right after Labor Day.

New Officers Named by Church Group

The Parsonettes of the Hope District of the Methodist Church met jointly with the ministers Friday, June 12 at Dierks Park in DeQueen for a picnic lunch and "Get-acquainted" meeting after conference appointments and to elect new officers.

The newly elected officers are Mrs. W.R. Burks of Hope, president; Mrs. Sam Jones of Foreman, secretary; Mrs. Pryor Crews of DeQueen, treasurer; Mrs. Joe Jones of Hope, publicity chairman. A vice-president of this organization of ministers' wives is to be named later.

Dr. Roy Bagley, Hope District Superintendent, presided over the meeting, and 26 ministers were represented.

City Agrees to Antenna Franchise

At a special meeting of the Board of City Directors last night, applicants interested in bringing a Television Cable service to the community were asked to submit complete proposals for such a system by Monday, June 22nd. Each applicant was asked to furnish information on the type of service proposed rates and a financial statement of their organization.

Three of the four organizations who have requested a franchise were present at the meeting. One of the group stated that he planned to make his home in Hope in the event he was successful in securing a franchise for the operation. Another of the applicants had a report of a telephone survey he had made to find out if the community was interested in having this service. He had a report of 100 people he had called.

He reported that none of them were asked to subscribe to the service, but were asked if they felt a franchise should be granted which would make the service available in the event they might want to subscribe. He reported that out of the 100 people called, 99 of them said they were in favor of the service being made available and that the other one would not discuss it.

The Board of Directors agreed that a franchise should be offered providing an agreement could be worked out that would fit into the local needs.

A number of local Television dealers and repairmen have attended the previous meetings where this was discussed, but at the meeting last night which was called especially for the purpose of discussing the whole proposition, none of the group were in attendance.

Public Works Bill Passes in the House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a public works appropriations bill Tuesday which included $120 million for river work in Arkansas.

In the $4.3 billion bill was $89 million for the Arkansas River navigation project, $35 million for work on other rivers and streams in Arkansas and $73 million for work on the lower Mississippi River and its tributaries.

The bill, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, was passed 360-11.

The House did not change the bill from the recommendations from the House Appropriations Committee. The committee recommended last week that the Arkansas River project get $5 million more than President Johnson requested in his budget.

The amount passed by the House was still $10 million under the $99 million that Army Engineers say is necessary to keep the project on schedule. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Projects for Arkansas and appropriations included:

Bank Stabilization, $15 million. Navigation locks and dams, $47 million.

Dardanelle Lock and Dam, $10 million. Ozark Dam, $1 million.

Eufaula Dam, $3 million. Keystone Dam, $6 million.

Kerr Dam, $6 million. Webber Falls Dam, $1 million.

Milwood Dam, $17.7 million. Beaver Reservoir, $4.5 million.

Conway Strike Continues

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — About 100 employees of Virco Manufacturing Co. remained on strike and picketed the plant here today.

The United Steelworkers Union struck the plant Monday because agreement could not be reached on a contract.

A company spokesman said he felt union demands were out of line, since Virco pays 16 cents above the state average for the type work its employees do and since the company has a good hospitalization plan.

The Steelworkers Union was recently certified as bargaining agent for the 135 employees of the firm. Virco manufactures tables and chairs.

Amendments Beaten Down on Rights Bill

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate began knocking down more amendments to the civil rights bill today as leaders expressed renewed determination to pass the measure before the end of the week.

The first amendment called up as the Senate reconvened after a wearing 13-hour session was offered by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., one of the Southerners still waging the fight against the bill.

Rejected 72-24, the amendment would have rewritten the enforcement provisions of the bill's prohibition on discrimination in employment on account of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

Before the start of today's session, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, said that "We'll finish with amendments today."

After action on amendments is completed, a round of speeches will follow. They could take a day or two. But Humphrey and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that, if necessary, a Saturday session would be held to get a vote on passage this week.

How many more amendments may be brought to a vote is anybody's guess. Before today's session, Thurmond told a reporter he might offer 18. Prior to today, he had advanced 20 unsuccessfully.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D - N.C., who has called up 23 amendments, said he might have a few more.

There were clear signs of a split in Southern ranks on this strategy to be followed.

Several said privately they saw no purpose in offering a wholesale number of amendments, many of them exceedingly minor, only to have them swamped by overwhelming votes. They said they planned to use their remaining time for speeches against the bill in the final passage debate.

All Southerners have retained at least a part of the hour allowed them under the cloture rule invoked a week ago today Continued on Page Two

Goldwater Has Enough Votes If He Keeps Them

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate strength has soared to 674, according to an Associated Press survey. If he hangs on to that total, he will win the Republican presidential nomination with 19 votes to spare.

Fifty-six votes pledged Tuesday by Texas Republicans pushed the Arizona Senator over the top—the 655 mark needed to win the big prize at the Republican National Convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

But after winning in Texas, Goldwater said the job is not done yet. He said he still needs more delegates because of the danger of slippage from among the delegates now on his list.

Goldwater's Texas sweep had been expected, with none of the Lone Star delegates expressing a previous preference for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's newest challenger.

Scranton has picked up 44 delegates since he started his campaign last Friday with 84 first-ballot votes in his pocket. But only one, in Pennsylvania, is known to have been a delegate who previously supported Goldwater.

Seventeen of Scranton's new votes have come from state conventions in Maryland and Connecticut, the remainder from delegates who were uncommitted or favored Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who this week threw his support behind Scranton.

Since Scranton's entry into the race, five delegates said they no longer favor Goldwater, including the "one" in Pennsylvania. But his losses have been more than offset by gains among other delegates who previously listed themselves as uncommitted.

In addition, the Arizona senator has won fresh support at state conventions since Scranton's announcement.

Gov. Scranton Broadens His Flying Quest

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton today broadened his flying quest for Republican convention delegates to include Utah and Kentucky.

The 46-year-old candidate put Salt Lake City on his Thursday itinerary and Louisville on the Friday schedule.

The new scheduling came as the governor embarked today on another 1,500-mile safari for convention support in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

On the docket today were St. Louis, Mo. and Denver, Colo.

Scranton and his weary, but hard-driving staff, showed increased optimism they could overtake Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who leads the Associated Press poll of GOP convention delegates with 674 votes — more than enough to capture the nomination at San Francisco next month if all of the commitments to him hold up on the first ballot.

"I think the impetus of our campaign is better than we expected at this time," Scranton said Tuesday night after a meeting with Minnesota delegates.

Scranton said he expects to see "some shifts next week" in the alignment of national delegate strength.

The governor contacted 14 of Minnesota's 26 delegates Tuesday. Five of those who met with him previously indicated they favored Goldwater.

Scranton said the session "will lead to worthwhile results." However, he declined to specify any numbers.

The current Associated Press poll showed that Minnesota's 26-vote delegation broke down this way: Eight votes for favorite Sen. Walter Judd, a former congressman; eight votes for Goldwater and 10 uncommitted.

Scranton's overnight visit to Minneapolis capped a day of long flying trips from Des Moines, Iowa, to Topeka, Kan., Continued on Page Three

Snead Has a Chance at U.S. Open

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since Sam Snead buried his 100th tomato can full of money, people have been saying that "this is his last chance" to win the U.S. Open, the one golf title that has always got away.

That was many tomato cans ago.

Snead is in his 24th consecutive Open at the Congressional Country Club starting Thursday and there is one fellow in the field who says that this is the time that the 52-year-old slammer could break through at last.

Snead's booster is Jack Nicklaus, the 24-year-old Ohio Golden Bear, who rates high on the list of favorites, himself.

"This course gives Snead his best chance to win in many, many years," Nicklaus said. "It calls for long drives, but there is plenty of fairway so they don't all have to be straight."

"A good long-iron player will do well. And putting will not be as important as it is in some other tournaments, because many players in the field won't be reaching these long holes in two. When everybody is on in two, it's a putting contest."

"You put all that together and it pretty well describes Snead's game, doesn't it?"

Of course, it also describes Nicklaus' game, too. And Arnold Palmer's. And almost nobody else's.

Nicklaus and Palmer, as usual, are the main objects of attention among the field of 150 who starts teeing off at 6:45 a.m. EST Thursday over the 7,053-yard Congressional.

The course is the longest ever used for the Open, but it is par 70.

After another 18 holes Friday, the field is trimmed to the low 50 and ties. There are 36 holes on Saturday.

That's the day when the pressure in this biggest of all golf tournaments gets so great that you can almost cut a square foot of it right out of the air, and only the steel-nerved survive.

Twice in his long career, Snead has thrown the Open away when he had it won, and on several other occasions he might have won with a good round here and there.

Although the odds against a Snead victory are long, he has been producing consistent golf in practice. He had 70 Monday, and had three birdies on the front nine Tuesday before he hacked up the back side for a 73.

Nicklaus, the PGA champion who won the Open in 1962, scored 71 in practice Tuesday and had two straight birdies on the back nine.

Palmer, who won the Masters and wants the Open as the second leg on the pro grand slam, shot 75 Tuesday and said he was putting poorly — as he was before the Masters started.

When we reached the hotel I paid for what was on the meter but asked the driver to wait. I'd decided that I'd pushed Jerry Dell enough to have to take out some insurance.

Up in the room I checked my gun permit to make sure it was still valid. It was. I took the shoulder holster from my suitcase and strapped it on. I checked the .38 and slipped it into the holster. I put a box of shells in my pocket and went back to the street. The driver was still waiting. I climbed in and gave him the address I had for Adam Jablonsky. The sedan was following as we pulled away from the curb.

There was a Jablonsky on the third floor of the building. I walked up some stairs and rang the bell. After a moment the apartment door opened, and an old woman looked out.

"I'm looking for Adam Jablonsky," I said. "Does he live here?"

"He used to live here," she said. She had a slight accent. "I wonder if you could tell me where I could find him? Are you his mother?"

"My son is dead, mister—almost seven years now."

"Seven years?"

She nodded. "It was May 12th. Two sons and a husband—all gone. There's just me, mister."

"I'm sorry to hear about it, Mrs. Jablonsky. How did it happen?"

"He was going to look for a job. He'd just lost his other job. I watched from the window as he left, such a fine, big man, just like his papa. Then, as he crossed the street, there is this car. It comes like the driver is crazy, maybe drunk. It hits my son and then goes on like maybe he only run over a little bug in the street."

"Did you get a good look at the car or the driver?"

"The car is like any car, mister. They all look alike. I no see anything except my son in the street. He was dead when I got to him."

"What did the police say?"

"They say they look for the car, but they never find it."

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Jablonsky. Sorry I revived the memory."

"You do not forget a son, mister," she said.

I said good-bye and went downstairs. The taxi was still waiting. So was the sedan, a half-block away. I gave the driver the next address.

The Minettis had moved and no one seemed to know where they'd gone. They weren't listed in the phone book. Than I tried the neighborhood stores. It was the druggist who came up with something. He thought that Mrs. Minetti had returned to his store to fill a prescription after she'd moved. He dug around in the back of the store until he found the prescription. And then he gave me an address that was about 10 blocks away.

It was an old, run-down building. I walked up to the fifth floor and found the door with Minetti on it.

Fertilize Hay Meadows

Are you interested in getting more good quality hay? You can get it with the right fertilizer and lime.

Plant food is necessary to produce leafy, vegetative growth and make more efficient use of soil moisture. On soil without enough plant food it takes a thousand pounds of water for each pound of dry hay. Where fertilizer is applied according to soil test it takes only 250 pounds of water.

In many cases you can more than double your hay yields with the proper fertilizer. Ask your county agent for fertilizer recommendations and the leaf-let on harvesting hay for quality.

Lawns

Have you ever looked at your neighbor's beautiful lawn and almost turned green with envy? Many homeowners have at one time or another. Beautiful lawns don't just happen. They are the result of many hours of work and planning. Most homeowners know that a regular balanced fertility program is one of the main factors affecting the beauty and usefulness of a lawn. When it comes time to add fertility, a host of questions always pop up.

Most often the leading question is: "What kind and how? Honor Society and the Key Club much fertilizer shall I use?" Other questions are "How often?" and when to apply it. All of these questions are important, and homeowners should have an answer to them before starting to fertilize the lawn.

First of all, a soil test is needed to determine the fertilizer and lime levels of the soil. Once this is made, the questions of kind and amount of fertilization and how often to apply it can be answered.

Broadcasting is the best method of applying fertilizer. Whether it is done by hand or a fertilizer spreader, be sure it is spread evenly over the entire area. There are severe precautions to follow when adding fertilizer to the lawn. To prevent burning, make sure the grass is completely dry before applying fertilizer. When you've finished, wash the fertilizer off the grass. Using too much fertilizer is harmful as well as costly. Occasionally too much fertilizer is applied, and the concentration in the soil is great enough to damage the roots. Use only the recommended amount based on a soil test. In the absence of a soil test, contact your county Extension office.

small, dark-haired woman still in her early thirties. She must have been very pretty once, but now she looked gaunt and tired.

"Mrs. Minetti?" I asked.

She nodded.

"I'd like to talk to your husband, Anthony. Is he home?"

"My husband is dead."

"I'm sorry," I said. "When did this happen?"

"Seven years ago. In May. Then there was just me and the three kids. Little Tony was only one. He doesn't even remember his father."

"How did it happen?"

"Tony had just lost his job," she said dully. "He went down the street to a bar to see if some of the fellows knew where he could get another job. He got in a fight with some man there and the man killed him."

"Was it somebody he knew?"

She shook her head. "Everybody said the man was a stranger and he picked the fight with Tony. A friend of Tony's told me about it. The man picked a fight with Tony and knocked him down. Then he grabbed a bottle from the bar, broke it, and jammed the broken end into Tony's throat." Her face paled as she talked. "That's what the police said and that's what Tony's friend said."

"They didn't find the killer?"

She shook her head. "He ran out right after he did it. Everybody in the bar described him the best they could, but the police were never able to find him."

"It must have been rough for you the last seven years," I said. "How have you managed?"

"I have part-time work. And Tony's union has given me money almost every week."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the Southern leader, has proposed only two amendments to the bill and said he would have no more.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, told newsmen that efforts to win an informal agreement to shut off the Southern amendments had failed.

"All we can do is sit here and grind through them," he said.

April's. The board said the May rise charted a further increase in the output of industrial equipment, a record flow of new automobiles and another jump of the production of furniture and other household goods. The output of iron and steel was near last year's peak.

The Federal Reserve Service reports the nation is enjoying one of its most peaceful periods of labor relations since World War II, with less working time lost to strikes than to coffee breaks.

The Labor Department reported employment increased to an all-time high of 71.1 million in May and unemployment dropped 300,000 to 3.6 million, adding up to a 5.1 per cent jobless rate—a four-year low.

"It is heartening to note," Johnson said, "that today more people are at work in the United States at higher wages than ever before."

9 of 12 State Delegates for Goldwater

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's bid for the Republican presidential nomination picked up more support Tuesday when it was announced that nine of Arkansas' 12 delegates would cast first-ballot votes for him.

John Ward, press relations director for the gubernatorial campaign of Winthrop Rockefeller, made the announcement which he said came from a poll made Tuesday by one of the delegates.

Previously, 10 of the delegates had said they would vote for Winthrop Rockefeller on the first ballot as a favorite son candidate. His name will still apparently be placed in nomination.

Ward said the three other delegates, one of them Rockefeller were undecided.

One of those who said he would vote for Goldwater on the first ballot, Dr. Wayne Babbitt of North Little Rock, and "now is the time Goldwater needs to find where his support is," Babbitt said the Arizona senator was by far the favorite in the 2nd Arkansas district.

Who the Arkansas delegation would support had caused a rift in the state GOP. William Spicer of Fort Smith, party chairman and an avid supporter of Goldwater, had said Winthrop Rockefeller was trying to get the delegation for his brother, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Gov. Rockefeller threw his support Monday to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania in the GOP presidential nomination race.

Spicer said he was very pleased to learn Ward's announcement that the delegates "are now permitted to vote for Barry Goldwater on the first ballot."

He said he had felt for many weeks the Arkansas delegates should be permitted to vote for Goldwater on the first ballot to "permit a true expression of the feelings of the people of Arkansas."

Spicer said he had received many calls and letters from people "bitterly opposed to the position taken by Winthrop. Thus I am now delighted to learn Winthrop is beginning to learn some of the political facts of life in Arkansas."

"No doubt this will enhance his position in his candidacy for the governorship. It is too bad he could not have evaluated the importance of this move many, many weeks ago," Spicer said.

Ward said the Goldwater organization has "understood since the last state committee meeting that the delegates favorable to Goldwater would be available to him on the first ballot, whether Rockefeller was nominated as favorite son or not."

Babbitt said the delegates had been authorized, but not instructed, to vote for Winthrop Rockefeller as a favorite son.

Passes Up the Racial Issue

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Presbyterian Synod of Tennessee voted Tuesday to pass the racial issue involving Memphis' second Presbyterian church to the Memphis Presbytery.

The synod, holdin gits 149th session here, agreed to let the presbytery decide the matter after an hour-and-a-half debate.

The action means that Second Presbyterian's segregation policies will be scrutinized by representatives of Memphis' Presbyterian churches. They will decide what action, if any, will be taken.

The church has repeatedly turned away mixed groups of white and Negro college students who have sought admission to services.

The synod also adopted a resolution to open their doors to all persons without regard to race or color.

Officers Donald Wood and Glen Clark said she was looking for gasoline when they got to the car. The control tower had notified police someone was driving on the runway.

Wood said when asked what she was doing the woman replied that she was dodging airplanes. He said he added she did her best to get her disabled car off the "highway."

Police charged the woman, a Negro of Little Rock, with being drunk in a public place.

Lynda Bird to End Her Tour

HONOLULU (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson was to return here from her four-day tour of Hawaii's islands today for a state dinner given by Gov. John A. Burns.

The slim, 20-year-old daughter of President Johnson is winding up a visit to the 50th state. Tuesday she toured the 13-mile lip of Kilauea volcano on Hawaii Island and shopped with the aid of a Secret Service escort for a muumuu dress.

Miss Johnson tried on several of the shift dresses in a Kailua-Ikoma shop and each time turned to the Secret Service escort for his opinion. She finally selected a red muumuu with a sunburst design that the agent had approved.

Giles County to Integrate

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Giles County next fall will become the first Virginia locality to eliminate segregated schools.

The State Pupil Placement Board Tuesday assigned all 131 Negro pupils in the county to two white schools. The county school board had planned to close the two Negro schools. Giles has a total school enrollment of about 4,500.

The placement board also assigned about 410 other Negro pupils to all-white or predominantly white schools in Virginia. The assignments will mean the first school desegregation in 11 localities.

Half of Virginia's school districts have some desegregation.

Graduates From School at Age of 75

By HOWARD C. HEYN

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Daniel Elmore, 72, a Negro handyman, graduates from high school today.

He is a little late getting his diploma because he had to put off 10 of his sons and daughters through college first.

Elmore financed that massive task with a series of odd jobs, over a period of 20 years.

The last one finished college seven years ago. "Then I figured it was my turn," the tall, proud father said Tuesday in an interview.

Two of his 10 children will be on hand when Elmore steps down the aisle in cap and gown at David Starr Jordan High School in nearby Watts to receive the certificate he earned in four years of night classes.

William Warden, principal of Jordan's adult high school, said: "This is a tremendous man and a wonderful student. He is an outstanding public speaker, and last year he delivered the graduation benediction even though he wasn't graduating. So this year we gave him that assignment again. Everyone is so happy for him."

All of Elmore's seven daughters and three sons got good jobs in a variety of fields. Five became teachers, two nurses. One of the teachers died six years ago.

One son is a biologist, one a musician. One of the nurses is now a graduate student, pursuing a master's degree in nursing administration. They range in age from 27 to 43.

"Every one of them wanted to go to college and every one worked to help me put them through," Elmore said. "Each of Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Tittle.

Ernest Ross is visiting in Kansas and recently went to the Eisenhower home and museum in Abilene.

Sherrie Lynn Corley of Smackover is visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. James O. Cox.

Mrs. Juanita Hastings of Dallas and Mrs. Jack Christensen of Waynesville, Mo., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor also visiting is Mrs. Laura Watts of Little Rock.

The Minor Polks and the Joe Hamiltons of Emmet went to the Childrens Colony in Conway this weekend to see Mitzi Polk and Carolyn Hamilton.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. John Stuart Rawson

Great white Majestic daisies, spikes of white stocks, and deep green lemon leaf tied with white satin bows and arranged in white baskets were the altar decorations at St. John's Catholic Church of Iowa, Kansas, for the marriage Saturday morning, June 6 of Miss Mary Lou Brune and John Stuart Rawson of Kansas City, Missouri.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Brune of Iowa, Kansas, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Rawson of Hope. The Rev. James Wilson officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. W.A. Cooksey, organist, played a program of wedding music before the ceremony, as well as the processional and the recessional, and she accompanied Rodney Lott when he sang "On This Day," "Ava Maria," "Jesus, My Lord," and "Jesus, Jesus Come" during the mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza over bridal tulle fashioned with a Beateau neckline, natural waist and long sleeves. Embroidered Swiss appliques bordered the neckline, extending in a floral pattern onto the bodice and front of the skirt. The chapel train, picked up in a bustle pouf, formed an aisle-wide circle. A queen's crown of lace and seed pearls held her imported silk veiling. Her flowers were a stylized arrangement of white gardenias, stephanotis, and baby breath.

Miss Mary Wilmoth, Miss Louann Hermreck, and Miss Mary Ann Creitz were bridesmaids and wore identical ocean green walk-length fitted sheaths in sate-peau styled with a scoop neckline, Dior sleeves, and an overskirt that featured a carriage back with a flat bow and long streamers. Each carried a unique hand bouquet of petite white roses, puffs of white satin and maline, and white satin streamers.

Marilynn Harris of Hope, was the flower girl. She wore a white organza dress with an ocean green sash and a circlet of flowers in her hair. She carried a dainty white basket filled with white and green Marguerite daisies and wore a tiny matching corsage. Steve Harris of Hope, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Robert Jenkins of Pittsburgh,

Kansas, was the best man, and Dr. Harve Rawson of Hanover, Indiana, and Tom Todd of Springfield, Missouri, were the groomsmen. The ushers were Dave Caruthers of Kansas City and Keith Barnes of Webb City, Missouri, fraternity brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Brune, mother of the bride, wore a powder blue dress with matching hat and white accessories. Mrs. Rawson, mother of the groom, wore a dusty rose ensemble with matching accessories. Each wore a gardenia corsage.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Mengays, North. Green and white roses with tall white burning tapers formed the centerpiece on the lace covered table. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Jack Hastings and Miss Mary Ann Vietti, sorority sisters of the bride. Mrs. Lynn Harris of Hope, sister of the groom, and Mrs. William Rolf presided at the punch bowl. Miss Anna Mae Winkelman and Miss Betty Brune, cousin of the bride, were at the gift table. Miss Candice Harris of Hope, niece of the groom, was in charge of the bride's book.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Western Hills resort in Northeast Oklahoma. For traveling the bride chose a powder blue summer suit with white accessories. She wore a white gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rawson hosted the rehearsal dinner at Mengays, North on Friday evening, June 5. The table was centered with a green and white floral arrangement with tall lighted tapers. Places were laid for 24. Dr. Harve Rawson entertained with organ music while the guests were assembling.

The bride is a graduate of Kansas State College at Pittsburg, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority. She has accepted a position of social science teacher in the Kansas City, Mo., secondary school system for this coming year. The groom is also a graduate of Kansas State College and a member of Phi Kappa Alpha social fraternity. He is now a control buyer for Montgomery Ward in Kansas City.

The couple is now at home at Stonewall Courts in Kansas City.

Dear Abby: If you still have the name and address of that young girl who complained because her boy friend fell asleep every chance he had, for heaven's sake, please tell her to drop him and forget him! I have been married for 33 years to a man who falls asleep the minute he sits down. He is not ashamed to fall asleep in church, at the theatre or even while we are entertaining guests in our home. Every time I look at him he is asleep. We have been places where the liveliest party is going on, and I always have to wake him up to take me home. I have begged, pleaded, threatened to leave him and cried, but nothing works. I've tried to get him to see a doctor, but he says he likes himself the way he is, and wouldn't take anything to keep him awake if he were offered it. It is like living with a dead man. Oh, what's the use? I should have left him years ago.

to Minneapolis. The governor's day also included two death threats—one a letter sent to Scranton's office at the state capitol in Harrisburg; the other a telephone threat transmitted to a Minneapolis radio station.

Scranton scoffed at the threats as the work of an "utter fanatic." He added: "I'm not interested in fanatics." Despite that, Minneapolis authorities clamped a tight security cordon around him.

The Utah and Kentucky trips were added to Scranton's itinerary after consultation between his aides and political leaders in the two states.

Scranton also is scheduled to give the keynote speech to the Massachusetts GOP convention Saturday afternoon.

On arrival at Minneapolis, Scranton declared his hunt for Midwestern delegate votes "is working out splendidly."

In Topeka Tuesday, the governor made a personal appeal to 11 of Kansas' 20 delegates. Afterwards Scranton said: "I think we did better in Kansas than we did in Iowa, where we did extremely well."

votes, some 401 are bound to him by personal pledge, primary election legal requirements or official action of state and district conventions.

The remaining 273 say they personally favor the senator but are not bound to him. It is from them that Scranton must try to draw enough support to preclude a first-ballot victory for Goldwater.

The senator's headquarters professes not to be worried. A Goldwater campaign official said Tuesday there is no plan for any headquarters personnel to trail Scranton across the nation in an attempt to counteract the governor's bid for delegates.

THE ECONOMIC IMAGE!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Please explain this one. My father is 52, a college graduate and has been in business for 27 years. We live in a $55,000 home in the suburbs. Since President Johnson started turning off the lights in the White House, my father has gone on an economy kick with our lights at home. When we leave the house all the lights are turned out, and when we come back it is so dark we can hardly see our way into the driveway. If one of us leaves a room for even five minutes, if we don't turn off the light we hear about it. We are allowed to burn a light only in the room where we

Arkansan Has Athletics on Win Streak

By MURRAY CHAS S

Associated Press Sports Writer
Now that Mel McGaha has gotten a rise out of the Kansas City Athletics, will he get a raise from Charles Finley?

McGaha, who succeeded Eddie Lopat as manager, has been on the job only five days, but in that time the Athletics have compiled a five-game winning streak after losing the first under their new field boss.

The surging A's stormed to within one game of ninth place in the American League Tuesday night, whipping Detroit 7-4 and 6-0.

The double victory came hours after Finley announced he had ripped up contracts of three players and given them raises. The Kansas City owner cited shortstop Wayne Causey and pitcher Orlando Pena and John Wyatt for "the outstanding job they have been doing."

If their jobs have been outstanding, McGaha's—based on Kansas City standards—has been amazing. When he assumed control of the Athletics last week, McGaha said he planned nothing drastic.

A five-game Athletics winning streak isn't drastic; it's downright shocking. The flurry marks the first time since last July Kansas City has won more than three in a row. At that time, the string also ran to five.

If the present streak is extended to six tonight in Detroit, Finley may take another look at McGaha's contract.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Chicago maintained its slim hold on first place by splitting with Baltimore, the White Sox winning the first 5-9 and losing the second 3-1.

New York outlasted Boston 7-5 after dropping a 6-5 decision. Cleveland outslugged Minnesota 5-3 and Los Angeles got by Washington 7-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Philadelphia defeated Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati whipped San Francisco 9-4, Los Angeles downed Milwaukee 5-1. St. Louis trounced Houston 7-1 and Pittsburgh nipped New York 2-1.

Bill Bryan propelled the Athletics to their second-game triumph, driving in five runs with one on in the fourth and with two on in the ninth. Ted Bowsfield, scattering eight hits, became the first pitcher to shut out the Tigers this season.

Kansas City scored six runs after two were out in the fourth inning of the opener. Pitcher Diego Segui sent three of the runs across with a bases-loaded double. He had a two-hitter until the ninth when the Tigers scored three times.

Bill Freehan, who homered in the fourth, singled home two runs in the inning.

Juan Pizarro limited the Orioles to three hits, all singles, in the first game. He received home run support from Pete Ward in the sixth and Floyd Robinson in the seventh. The victory was Pizarro's eighth against three defeats.

Hope Star SPORTS

2 Arkansans Sign to Play With LSU

Baton Rouge, La.—(Special)—Two of Arkansas' top prep football stars have signed grant-in-aid scholarships with Louisiana State University. Coach Charles McClendon has announced.

The two are center-linebacker Dan Jones of Hope and quarterback Mickey Christian of Magnolia. Both youngsters were named to the Class AA All-State squad in 1963.

Jones, a 6-3, 225-pounder captained his regional champion Hope team last year and was a varsity letterman for three years. In 1963, he was named to the pro-season Super Team in Arkansas and was voted Hope's outstanding athlete for the school year just completed. He has already been named to the West All-Star prep team that will face an East squad later this summer. An outstanding student as well as athlete, Jones was a member of the National Honor Society and the Key Club at Hope. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Jones of Hope.

Christian, a husky 6-0, 195-pounder quarterback, was the sparkplug of the Magnolia attack last year. During the season, he threw 144 passes and completed 78 for 1176 yards and 17 touchdowns. In one game he completed 16 of 21 passes for 250 yards and four touchdowns. He was voted the Outstanding Back in Arkansas District 4AA last year.

Coach McClendon said, "I am happy that these two young men have decided to continue their education and athletic participation at LSU. Both are excellent prospects and are the type of individuals that we encourage in our program. I believe that both have excellent futures."

Kansas City scored six runs after two were out in the fourth inning of the opener. Pitcher Diego Segui sent three of the runs across with a bases-loaded double. He had a two-hitter until the ninth when the Tigers scored three times.

Bill Freehan, who homered in the fourth, singled home two runs in the inning.

Juan Pizarro limited the Orioles to three hits, all singles, in the first game. He received home run support from Pete Ward in the sixth and Floyd Robinson in the seventh. The victory was Pizarro's eighth against three defeats.

Norm Gigon tripled in the eighth, and Costen Shockley's single brought him home.

Spahn Loss to Dodgers First in Two Years

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
"If some of the young kids come through—like that young Warren Spahn—I feel we will have a good club."

Warren Spahn said it. Warren Spahn isn't doing it. The ace Milwaukee left-hander, oldest player in the majors at 43, showed his age again Tuesday night, failing for the sixth straight time to finish what he started and dropping a 5-1 decision to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And it just may be that after a major league career spanning 20 seasons, 691 games and 4,974 innings, the left arm that has been working effortlessly for so many years may finally be feeling the strain.

Spahn, who entered organized baseball with Bradford of the Pony League in 1940, showed no signs of slowing down last year as he posted a 23-7 record and hit the 20-victory circle for the 13th time. But the greatest left-hander in baseball history has been running into trouble this season.

Spahn has brought his career victory total to 355 with five triumphs this season but also has added five losses for 221 lifetime. Along with the mediocre 5-5 record goes an even more unimpressive 4.32 earned run average.

Spahn's latest loss was his first to the Dodgers in more than two years. He had won six in a row dating back to June 13, 1962. He was locked in a duel with Don Drysdale for seven innings. Then Willie Davis smacked a key two-run triple and it was all over.

Meanwhile, the National League—leading Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago Cubs 4-2 and moved one game in front of the San Francisco Giants, who lost to Cincinnati 9-4. Elsewhere, St. Louis snapped a five-game losing streak by walling Houston 7-1 and Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 2-1.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox shut out Baltimore 5-0 before losing the nightcap of a twin-biller 3-1. Boston defeated the New York Yankees 6-5, then lost 7-5 and Kansas City took two from Detroit 7-4 and 6-0. In single games, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 5-3 and the Los Angeles

Angels downed Washington 7-5 in 10 innings.

John Roseboro doubled home Tommy Davis for a 2-0 Dodger lead in the fourth, but the Braves closed the gap in the sixth on doubles by Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron.

Willie Davis then connected for his two-run triple in the seventh and wrapped up the three-run outburst against Spahn by scoring on a single by Maury Wills. Drysdale, bringing his record to 9-5, checked the Braves on four hits.

John Herrnstein homered for the Phillies, who scored the decisive run in the fourth on a double by Tony Gonzalez, an infield out and Bobby Wine's squeeze bunt.

The Cubs threatened to pull it out in the seventh with two runs in and two men on but John Callison raced to the wall in left center at Wrigley Field and made a leaping one-handed catch of Billy Williams' long drive.

Vada Pinson and Leo Cardenas hit two-run homers as the Reds built an 8-0 lead before the Giants finally scored against when Rusty Staub homered for the Colts in the eighth.

Bob Veale started in place of the ailing Bob Friend for the Pirates, scattered nine hits, struck out 12 and drove in a winning run with a single in the run, homering in the third and driving in another run with a single in the eighth.

Ken Boyer slammed a homer, triple double and single for the Cardinals, becoming the first National Leaguer to hit for the cycle this season. Boyer's four hits and three runs batted in led a 15-hit St. Louis attack in support of Curt Simmons.

Simmons, 7-5, allowed only four hits, losing his shutout when Rusty Staub homered for the Colts in the eighth.

Ump Strike Threat Has Faded Some

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The threatened strike of National League umpires on July 3 has faded and more than half of the 20 dissatisfied arbiters will call them as they see them in a July 6 pension peace parley in New York.

The squabble by the National League Umpire Association took a temperate twist Tuesday when its Chicago attorney said 11 men in blue would confer with the league executive committee the day before the All-Star baseball game in New York.

The two sides will consider the umpires' demand for increasing from $200 to $300 a year their pension for each year of service.

On May 26, the association rejected NL President Warren Giles' offer of a $250 pension compromise and set July 3 as deadline for "appropriate action," generally interpreted as a walkout.

The umpires' attorney, John J. Reynolds, disclosed at a news conference:

1. That Giles, in behalf of the National League requested that all of the umpire association officers, plus the National League three-man crew working the All-Star game, meet with the NL Executive Committee July 6.

2. That, pending this parley, the umpires "suspended" their July 3 terminal date for negotiations.

3. That the conclusions of the N Executive Committee—composed of John Holland of the Chicago Cubs, Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Reds and John McHale of the Milwaukee Braves—will be reported to a full National League meeting prior to Aug. 15.

That if the executive committee flatly rejects the umpire pitch for the $300 yearly pension setup "we'll have to decide our next step."

The National League Umpires Association has no counterpart in the American League, whose umpires this spring got a boost from $150 to $250 yearly in their pension plan.

Nikita Gets Only Friendly Welcome

By RONALD THOMSON
COPENHAGEN (AP) — Premier Khrushchev arrived in Copenhagen today at the start of a three-week visit to Scandinavia and received a friendly but low-keyed reception from thin crowds of Danes.

The lack-luster atmosphere was in striking contrast to the boisterous crowds which howled enthusiasm for Khrushchev on his recent visit to Egypt.

The Soviet liner Bashkiria with Khrushchev and his party aboard slid smoothly into its pier. Premier Jens Otto Krag, Foreign Minister Per Hækkerup and other high Danish officials welcomed the visitors.

All ship movements in the harbor—one of the world's busiest—were halted for Khrushchev's arrival. The tightest security precautions in Denmark since World War II went into effect for the Soviet leader's five-day visit.

Four thousand police many of them imported from the provinces, were on the alert in the city of one million people.

A Danish frigate and a corvette escorted the Bashkiria through Danish territorial waters.

The crowd watching the arrival, restricted to some 2,000, applauded mildly as Mrs. Khrushchev appeared on deck with her husband.

The Soviet premier was also accompanied by his three daughters, Julia, Rada and Elena, and a party of Soviet officials including Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

With the Danish government avowedly determined to avoid any discussion of its defense ties with the West, it appeared that trade would be the big item in talks during Khrushchev's visit.

Foreign Minister Hækkerup told a news conference his government would like to export ships and agricultural products and was interested in importing a variety of products including oil.

Before pushing on for six-day visits to Sweden and Norway, Khrushchev was expected to tour Denmark's farm areas, including the grain and dairylands of Funen Island south of Jutland.

Hækkerup said his government would give its views on such questions as Cyprus, where Danish troops are serving on the United Nations peace force, and Germany.

"We agree with the general attitude of the Western powers on the German problem," he said.

Hækkerup said his government had no intention of discussing with Khrushchev Denmark's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Knoxville, Tenn. — Knox County Sheriff Carl Food returned from a raid on an illegal cockfight meaning: "What can I do with eight gamecocks?" He can't store them away from other confiscated gambling devices because they would starve. They have to be kept separated or the birds would kill each other. Food says he can't kill them and the owners can't have them back.

Power Is Added to 11-Point Dam
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Army Engineers have approved plans for a multi-purpose project for the Eleven Point River, to provide flood control, hydroelectric power and recreation facilities.

The recommendation came from hearings on the project, which originally included only flood control. Hydroelectric power generation was provided for after the initial project — Valley Dam across the river — was completed.

The Randolph County dam would cost about $26.9 million with the initial recreation facilities now planned. Ultimate additions to the recreation area would bring the total to $27.8 million.

The dam has been the subject of considerable controversy since 1938, when it was first proposed.

Brig. Gen. Carroll H. Dunn, Little Rock District engineer, announced the current proposal Saturday.

Opponents of the dam have organized into the Upper Eleven Point River Association. They maintain that power generated by the dam could be less expensively produced by a steam generating plant and that power would be provided by the dam for only one town of about 10,000 persons.

They also contend that additional money brought into the area by the dam and recreational facilities will not replace that lost by residents of the area.

They further contend that the dam is unnecessary, since there has never been a flood on the Eleven Point.

Proponents say the dam will enhance the financial stability of the area through increased tourist trade.

The dam would have a 25,000 kilowatt generating capacity, Dunn said, and a reservoir capacity of 699,000 acre feet of water.

Wants List of Engineering Fees

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) —Democratic gubernatorial candidate Odell Dorsey said Monday he would ask Acting Highway Director Ward Goodman for his list of engineering fees paid to out-of-state firms in the last 10 years.

In a speech to a North Little Rock civic club, Dorsey said the Highway department has paid $2.5 million in consulting fees to out-of-state firms in recent years.

"I would like to know why the state government can't do business at home," Dorsey said.

Dorsey said a Kansas City firm received $500,000 from the state Highway Department for engineering work on the Helena Bridge and paid $2 million to New York firms for work on the Freeway Bridge at Little Rock and Interstate 40 between Hazen and Brinkley.

"Do you know how many persons this work would have employed if negotiated with Arkansas firms," Dorsey asked.

Dorsey is one of four opponents to Gov. Orval E. Faubus bid for a sixth term.

Rocky's Help Big Boost for Scranton

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton moved his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination onto firmer ground today with the full support of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

But the Pennsylvania governor, carrying the flag of Republican moderates, plainly had a lot of running to do to catch up with Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The expected addition of 56 Texas delegate votes today would give Goldwater 674 publicly committed on the first ballot, 19 more than the 655 needed for the nomination. He expects to get 14 more from Montana this week.

Scranton's task is to whittle away enough of this support to prevent any choice on the first count-down at the mid-July convention in San Francisco. He can accomplish this only if favorite son delegations come over to him or stand pat.

Rockefeller's announcement in New York Monday that he had decided he best was to continue his fight "for the basic principles of progress and moderation" in the party was a give his full support to Scranton, put a needed foundation under the Pennsylvania governor's crusade.

In the view of some seasoned politicians it would act psychologically to stem any stampede to Goldwater by injecting an element of doubt that he had the nomination in the bag.

It was not immediately clear how many of the 125 votes credited to Rockefeller in an Associated Press survey could be added to the 125 listed for Scranton, nor whether this could be done on the first ballot.

Scranton voiced the belief in a speech to Iowa delegates in Des Moines Monday night that "it is clear by now that this is going to be an open convention."

"We have already caused the coronation to be called off," he said in reference to the prospect that Goldwater would go to the convention with an unchallenged lead.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a candidate for re-election who has viewed the Goldwater rush toward the nomination with

Arkansans Vote for Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas Sens. John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright voted for amendments to the civil rights bill Monday but all four of the measures on which action was taken were defeated.

McClellan and Fulbright voted for an amendment which would have killed the public accommodations section from the bill. The amendment was defeated 23-63.

Both voted for an amendment prohibiting court or executive orders requiring transportation of pupils to achieve a racial balance in a school. That amendment was defeated 71-18.

McClellan voted for two amendments to eliminate the attorney general's power to bring suits to desegregate schools or public facilities if individuals are unable to do so and to require that the courts rule on this inability. The amendments were defeated 53-37.

Fulbright was not present to vote on the amendments but was paired against them.

something akin to dismay, said in a statement that Rockefeller's announcement "boosts Governor Scranton's chances from the barely possible to the very hopeful."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., another candidate for re-election who had a great deal to do with pushing Scranton into the race, said Rockefeller's decision was a sign that Scranton was awakening "technical, financial and emotional support across the country."

Sen. Norris Cotton, who managed Goldwater's unsuccessful campaign in the March New Hampshire primary, conceded in a separate interview that Rockefeller's action indicates there will be a "real contest" at the July convention.

Scott, a former Republican national chairman, said he believes a significant reassessment of positions is under way among convention delegates who have been listed as publicly favoring Goldwater but who are not legally bound to vote for him.

Some 273 delegates fall in that category, according to an Associated Press survey. Major blocs in this group include Colorado 14, Florida 19, Illinois 31, Kentucky 16, Missouri 21, New Mexico 14, North Carolina 21, Ohio 15, Tennessee 12, Virginia 13 and Washington 22.

Amendment Sias Apparently Failing

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) - Only 13,000 signatures are on petitions for an amendment for a special hunting and fishing license for elderly persons and Union County Rep. Donald Brown says attempts to get the special hunting and fishing amendment on the November ballot apparently are failing.

A total of 39,800 signatures are necessary to get the amendment on the ballot and they must be obtained by the July 2 deadline which is only 17 days away.

Brown wrote the amendment which would give a permanent hunting and fishing license to persons 65 or older for $1. The licenses now cost $2.50 a year each.

Boxing Will Continue TV or Not

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Boxing will continue at Madison Square Garden after Sept. 11, new television contract or not.

Harry Markson, managing director of Garden boxing, said today he still hoped to work out a special network to carry the bouts on television after the current contract expires.

However, the fact that no new network has been arranged since ABC said last December that it would drop boxing, indicates that there is a strong possibility that regular fight programs on television may end Sept. 11.

"We still are working on setting up a network for boxing," said Markson. "It would be no problem finding enough stations across the nation but we must have outlets in the major markets such as Los Angeles, New York and Chicago. They are musts."

"Then you should have cities such as Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, San Francisco, New Orleans, Cleveland, Washington and Pittsburgh as well as the smaller cities."

Even with the current television contract calling for fights every week only about one of every two shows originated in the Garden. The big arena is otherwise occupied with basketball, hockey, ice shows and a circus during much of the year.

"We will go ahead with a show on the average of every other week, even if we can't set up a television network," said Markson. "I hope we will have a definite answer on television by July 1."

go All-Star football game, there will be boxing every Friday through Sept. 11. After that, it is anybody's guess.

Court Takes 3 Big Steps in 2 Years

By JAMES MARLOW

KAssociated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has now taken three historic steps in two years in a fight it had timely avoided: voting in the states. The third time was Monday.

The court got biting criticism for all three decisions, and high praise. The country quickly adjusted to the first two and will to the third. This is an ABC on what happened and why, starting with the federal government as background.

In Congress each state under the Constitution is entitled to two senators. Its size or population doesn't count. It is different with the House of Representatives. There each state is entitled to at least one representative.

But any more than that must be based on its population in relation to the population of the other states since the total number of representatives for the 50 states is limited now to 435. Every 10 years, after a census, the number of representatives is reapportioned among the states according to their population. So while each state has two senators, the number of representatives varies by state populations.

The same general idea operated in the states, or was supposed to, in picking members of their legislatures.

Forty state constitutions required rearranging of their legislative districts every 10 years or so to provide their voters equal representation. But for generations some state legislatures ignored their constitutions. Examples: Tennessee and Alabama.

At the beginning of the century rural areas dominated state legislatures. Then populations shifted from farms to cities, but there was no redistricting, rural areas were still in control and would do nothing to lose it.

An example of what this could mean: 10,000 people in one rural legislative district would have one state representative while 100,000 city people would have only one. This meant one farmer's vote was equal to 10 city votes.

This meant unequal representation. But the rural - controlled legislatures would not change it. Appeals were made to the Supreme Court. It ducked saying it didn't want to get involved in politics. It said this last in 1945.

In 1962, in a Tennessee case, the court reversed itself and said federal courts would step in if necessary to order redistricting to provide citizens of a state more equal representation in legislatures.

It laid down a rule which has guided it since: one voter, one vote. Then on Feb. 17, 1964, the court went further, stepped into state arrangements for election of representatives to Congress from states' congressional districts.

I said congressional districts within a state must be based more truly than has been the practice on population. Monday the third step came when the court said state senators must also be elected on a population basis instead of by some old, fixed rule of state senatorial districts that gave unequal representation.

How could the court say state senators must represent, more or less, equal number of a state's population when on the federal level each state is entitled to two U.S. senators, no matter how big or small it is, or its population?

Chief Justice Earl Warren, in a very lucid opinion, reasoned this way:

The federal system—two senators, regardless of population—was never intended to be a model for the states. This arrangement was the result of a compromise between large and small states when the country was created.

The big states, with more representatives, would have a larger voice in the House; but, to balance this off, every state was to have two senators.

But Warren said whereas each state is a so-called sovereign entity, the various subdivisions of a state can't be so considered. They are just subordinate instruments created by and within a state to carry out its functions.

He said the idea of equal representation in a state legislature for citizens would not mean much if it was equal in the House but unequal in the Senate since then one house could cancel out what the other wanted.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Judy Garland first met Mickey Rooney in its classrooms. Betty Grable was a student, and so was Donald O'Connor. And so were Natalie Wood, Anita Louise, Connie Stevens, Jill St. John, Yvette Mimieux, Debra Paget, Tuesday Weld, Sue Lyon, Helen Grayco, Jimmy Boyd, Molly Bee, Annette Funicello and a flock of other Mouseketeers.

All of them and hundreds more have called Hollywood Professional School their alma mater during its 40 years at 5400 Hollywood Blvd. A new class of 70 seniors will be graduating tonight, but not all will be able to attend the ceremonies.

The student body president, former Mouseketeer Cubby O'Brien, won't be present to deliver his valedictory. He is opening with his band in Las Vegas tonight, an understudy is standing by to read his speech. Understudies are provided for all school functions—in case students get jobs and can't show up.

"We run an educational workshop," explains Bertha Mann, executive director. "We have no Mickey Mouse courses. Our students are drilled in fundamentals from 8:45 to 12:45 each morning. Those who have to work at studios in the morning can come for tutoring in the afternoon."

"We have no athletics, no cafeteria, no hotel or boarding department. We are strictly an academic day school."

The measure of its success: it was the only private school among 15 high schools in the Los Angeles area to be cited by the University of California for the high scholarship of former students.

Principal Mary Anderssen refuted the notion that child performers are not Phi Beta Kappa types.

"The professional child is extremely bright," said she. "Many of them are straight A students. They present no discipline problems. They want to project a good image of themselves."

A Change Has Come to Panama

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP)—The "gringos out" sign has disappeared from Boly Khan's cocktail lounge and the welcome mat is out for the Yankee visitor. But business is slack.

"It isn't the same and probably never will be again," says a patron.

That about sums up the picture in this deceptively tranquil-looking capital six months after the Canal Zone violence between that claimed more than 20 lives. A subtle but distinct change has muted Panama's once sprightly, colorful moods. There is an undercurrent of tension. Although the wounds seem healed, tender scars remain.

Most heavy damage to buildings and homes on the American side of the Canal Zone border has been repaired. The upper walls of the 12-story legislative palace on the Panamanian side remain bullet-splattered near windows from which snipers fired at American soldiers. Other buildings on the Panama side have bullet marks carefully circled in red paint to attract attention.

The Pan American World Airways building, set afire by rioters in the mistaken belief it was American-owned, remains a burnt-out shell. It once was one of the most attractive buildings in the city.

Under an agreement to symbolize Panama's titular sovereignty over the Canal Zone, Panamanian flags now fly along side the U.S. baer at 29 public sites in the American-sector. An attempt by Panamanian students to hoist their flag at Balboa High School in the zone led to the January fighting.

Although American tourists freely roam downtown Panama shops in increasing numbers and U.S. citizens living in the city say they are not molested, many American residents refuse to go into Panama City.

A wave of small-scale terrorism and violence of vague origin is helping prolong the state of anxiety under which Panama has lived since January.

The purely national character of the current turbulence has Panamanians looking inward for the source and scope of their new troubles.

Reminder of the grim episode came last week when the International Jurists' Commission, invited by the Panama Bar Association to look into the disorders, issued a report denying Panama's claims that the United States violated principles of human rights.

Most Panamanians seemed to have only passing interest in the findings. President Roberto Chiari and other political leaders declined to comment. A presidential aide said the issue of human rights had been raised by a private organization, not by the government.

Gas Service Is Restored

HELENA Ark. (AP) Gas service was restored Monday to customers in eight east Arkansas cities Monday after completion of a temporary gas pipeline to replace one which burst Friday.

The temporary line was completed Saturday but 7,000 customers had to have their gas meters turned off and back on by hand. Forty employees went from house to house turning the meters off and on.

That work was completed Monday, Arkansas - Louisiana Gas Co. officials said.

Service was disrupted when a 12 inch pipeline burst in the Long Lake community west of

Faubus Would Up Pensions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Gov. Orval Faubus said Monday that an increase in pensions for World War I veterans would be a good start for President Lyndon B. Johnson's anti-poverty program.

Faubus said he would like to see Johnson's poverty bill amended to "reward those who most need to be rewarded." He spoke at a convention dinner of the Veterans of World War I.

Pension payments to World War I veterans are pitifully low, Faubus said, and an increase would be a just reward for them and a means of attacking poverty. He said World War I veterans had few of the benefits provided World War II veterans.

Faubus criticized what he called trends in this country to downgrade patriotism, debunk national heroes and condone immorality.

Congress Is Seeking More Tax Slashes

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—First economic cut of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

The administration is reportedly studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter — the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These war-time taxes have been on a year to year basis.

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress.

Rocky Calls in Campaign Managers

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called a meeting today of his campaign leaders "from all parts of the country" to confer on his withdrawal from the race for the Republican presidential nomination in favor of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

In his brief announcement late Monday, the New York governor said he was not releasing any delegates at that time "because of the necessity for consultation with delegates pledged to me by law or otherwise and for technical reasons."

An Associated Press survey indicated Rockefeller and Scranton each had 125 first-ballot delegates. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who defeated Rockefeller in the California primary, had 618. A total of 655 is needed for nomination.

Rockefeller, first to enter the race, told the New York delegation in Albany last Thursday he would "stand all the way as a candidate dedicated to moderate, responsible Republicanism."

Scranton entered the race Friday. Rockefeller did not use the word "withdraw" in the announcement, distributed at his New York headquarters.

He said that to achieve the objectives of "the adoption of a moderate, forward-looking platform and the nomination of a candidate in the mainstream of American political thought and action and dedicated to such a platform, I have come to the conclusion that the proper course now is for all those who share these views and objectives to support Gov. William W. Scranton for the nomination."

gress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

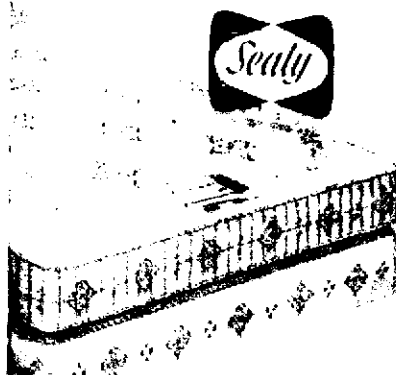

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.
